The Circuit des Remparts is a must for lovers of vintage and veteran cars. Held annually on the third weekend of September, the weekend motoring festival is a mix of closed street races and includes a concours d' elegance.

The centre of Angoulême is transformed into a racetrack, where you can watch Bugattis, Rileys, Edwardians, MGs, Maseratis, Porsches and a host of other famous marques speeding around the ramparts of the old city.

We take an early ferry from Dover to Calais, and then drive to Angoulême – a total of about 460 miles.

Our base for three nights is a modern three star hotel, in the outskirts of the city.
